About this Guide

With the renewed focus on infrastructure projects, the demand for construction equipment is going up. The machine market will see an increased demand which in turn will lead to a more significant number of skilled electrical mechanic being needed to repair these machines. This demand will in turn lead to the need for trainers.

This facilitator guide book has been designed to enable the facilitator to train participants for repair and maintenance of electrical equipments as Qualifications Pack (QP). National Occupational Standards (NOS) is covered under separate unit(s).

The book elaborates how facilitators interact with the participants and train them by understanding their needs and explaining all the fundamental concepts about their job roles. Also, it helps the facilitator to complete all the topics in time.

Key learning objectives for the each NOS is listed at the beginning of each unit(s).

PARALLEL-CIRCUIT

Fig. 1.4.1 (k) Parallel Circuit

SERIES-CIRCUIT

The following equation is used for determining total resistance:

$$R_t = R_1 + R_2 + R_3, \text{ or } R_t = 3\text{Ohms} + 3\text{Ohms} + 6\text{Ohms}, \text{ or } R_t = 12\text{Ohms}.$$

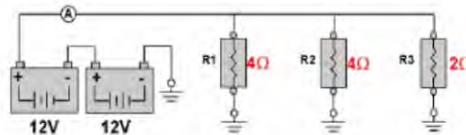

$$I = E/R, \text{ or } I = 24\text{V}/12\text{Ohms}, \text{ or } I = 2 \text{ amperes}$$

The following equations are for voltage drops:

$$E_1 = 2\text{A} \times 3\text{Ohms} = 6\text{V}$$

$$E_2 = 2\text{A} \times 3\text{Ohms} = 6\text{V}$$

$$E_3 = 2\text{A} \times 6\text{Ohms} = 12\text{V}$$

PARALLEL-CIRCUIT

Applying the voltage rule for parallel circuits (voltage is SAME in all branches) you can solve the unknown current value in each branch by using the Ohm's Law circle, whereas $I = E/R$

$$I_1 = E_1/R_1 \text{ or } I_1 = 24/4 \text{ or } I_1 = 6 \text{ amps}$$

$$I_2 = E_2/R_2 \text{ or } I_2 = 24/4$$

$$I_3 = E_3/R_3 \text{ or } I_3 = 24/2 \text{ or } I_3 = 12 \text{ amps}$$

$$I_t = I_1 + I_2 + I_3 \text{ or } 6+6+12 = 24 \text{ amp}$$

The total circuit resistance is calculated as 1 ohm. ($R_t = E_t/I_t$)

Resistance depends on length of the conductor.

When resistance increases current decreases.
Resistance also depends on cross section of conductors.

MULTIMETER

Multimeter measures:

- Voltage (AC, DC– Voltage)
- Current (AC, DC– Ampere)
- Resistance (Ohms, Kilo ohms)
- Continuity
- Diode
- To measure current – Connected in series
- To measure voltage – Connected in parallel
- To measure resistance - the component must be removed from the Power source.

Fig. 1.4.1 (m) Multimeter

Cont....

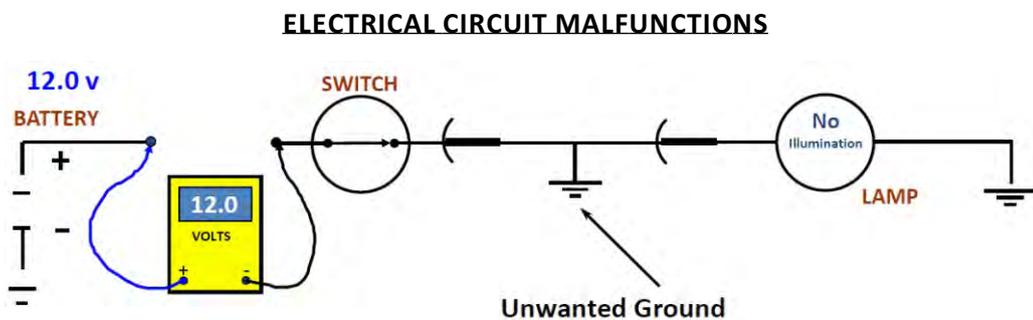

Fig. 1.4.1 (n) Electrical Circuit Malfunctions

The issue with using a voltmeter in place of the fuse is if you don't disconnect the ground circuit at the end component, the meter reading won't go away when you do remove the unwanted ground.

Test light also could be used in place of fuse. When the unwanted ground is in the circuit, the test light should glow brightly. When the unwanted ground is removed, the test light will dim and the lamp would light at about half brightness.

ELECTRICAL CIRCUIT

MEASURING CIRCUIT RESISTANCE

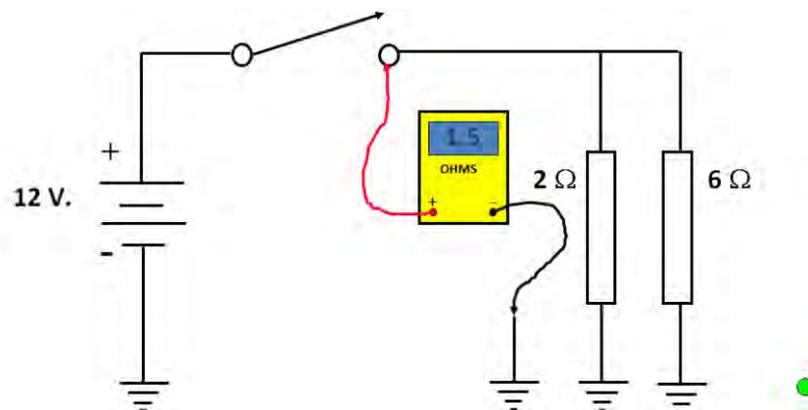

Fig. 1.4.1 (o) Measuring Circuit Resistance

To measure total resistance, the meter would be placed in parallel with the loads. Be sure to isolate the circuit from power.

MEASURING COMPONENTS RESISTANCE

Fig. 1.4.1 (p) Measuring Component Resistance

To measure branch resistance, that branch is removed or isolated and the meter placed in parallel with that component.

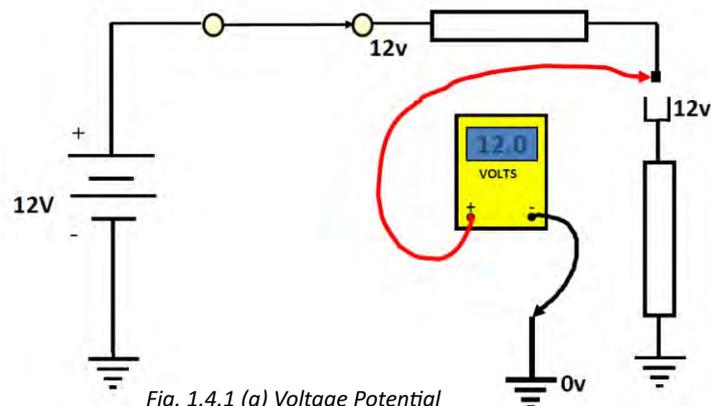

VOLTAGE POTENTIAL

Fig. 1.4.1 (q) Voltage Potential

Voltage potential is the voltage that is present at a point in a circuit when the load or ground has been disconnected.

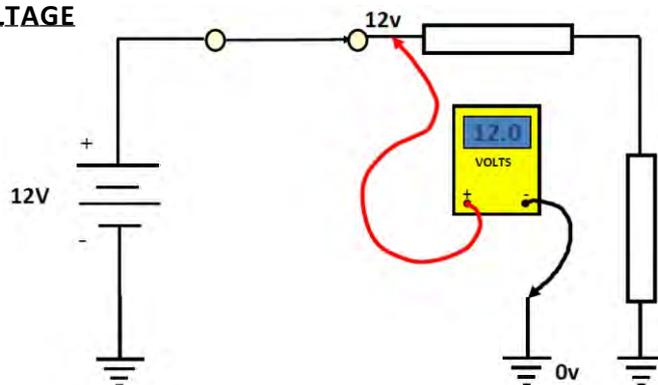

AVAILABLE VOLTAGE

Fig. 1.4.1 (r) Available Voltage

Available voltage is when the switch is closed then current will flow to the component or load. In most cases the available voltage will be lower if there is resistance in that power circuit.

Cont....

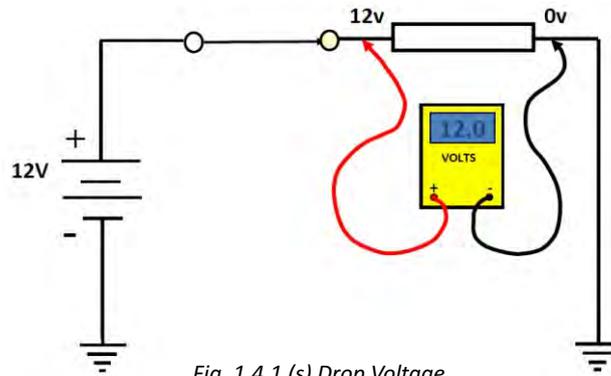

VOLTAGE DROP

Fig. 1.4.1 (s) Drop Voltage

Voltage drop is the difference of voltage values between the meter leads. When the leads are connected to each side of a light bulb (load), the meter measures voltage into the bulb. The other lead measures the voltage out. The meter reads the voltage difference on the display. In a series circuit with one light bulb, the total source voltage will drop across the bulb.

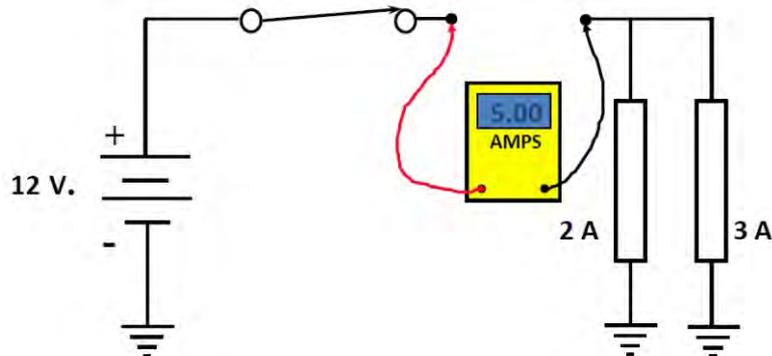

MEASURING TOTAL CURRENT with SHUNT TYPE

Fig. 1.4.1 (t) Total Current

To measure amperage in a circuit, the meter must be connected in series in the circuit. Total amperage in the circuit will be measured.

What is the actual value of ohms if display shows 3.56K ohms?

- a] 3.56 ohms
- b] 356 ohms
- c] 3560 ohms
- d] 35600 ohms

What is actual value of amperage if the meter shows 30.5Ma?

- a] 30.5 amps

- c] .305 amps
- d] 0.0305 amps

- Relays are used to control a circuit by a separate low-power signal, or where several circuits must be controlled by one signal.

Explain

Relay is an electrical switch. Relay switching occurs with an electromagnetic induction.

V1 and V2 Power source

C - Common terminal

B - Normally Open

UNIT 2.1.5: Diode

Say

- A diode is a two-terminal electronic component that conducts current primarily in one direction; it has low (ideally zero) resistance in one direction, and high (ideally infinite) resistance in the other.
- A semiconductor diode, the most common type today, is a crystalline piece of semiconductor material with a p-n junction connected to two electrical terminals.

Explain

Diodes can be made of Silicon or Germanium.

Diode functions include:

- Rectification – changing AC current to DC current.
- Circuit Control where there is a direct current in a specific direction between circuits.
- Clamping Protection, which helps to keep spikes from damaging the sensitive solid state material and helps to maintain circuit voltage within a specific range.

Notes for Facilitation

- Explain the functions of a diode.
- Refer to page no. 41 in the participant handbook for the above topic.

UNIT 2.1.6: Magnetic Pick up Unit

Say

- Magnetic pickups (MPUs) are speed sensors that detect the speed of a prime mover, typically an engine or turbine.
- They are the communication link between your engine and a woodward electronic governor control.

Explain

A magnetic pickup generates an analog signal. This is accomplished with a winding around a permanent magnet.

When the ferrous gear tooth passes the sensor it induces voltage. The processor counts the time between the highs of the analog signal and calculates the speed. These are generally used for rpm sensing.

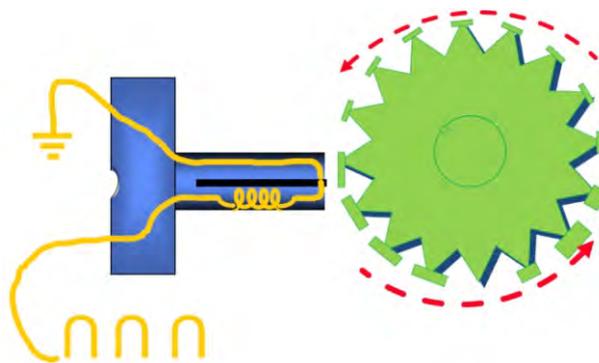

Fig. 2.1.6 (a) Magnetic Pickup Unit

- What is magnetic pickup unit?
- How does a magnetic pickup work?

Notes for Facilitation

- Explain the functions of a magnetic pickup unit.

UNIT 2.1.7: Circuit Protection

Say

- A circuit breaker is an automatically operated electrical switch, designed to protect an electrical circuit from the damage caused by excess current, typically resulting from an overload or short circuit. Its basic function is to interrupt current flow after a fault is detected.
- Fuses, fuse elements, fusible links, and circuit breakers are used as circuit protection devices. Circuit protection devices are available in a variety of types, shapes, and specific current ratings. A fuse is the most common protection device.

Explain

Fuse:

A “onetime” protection device and must be replaced each time it melts.

UNIT 2.2: Basic Electrical Diagnostics

Unit Objective

At the end of this unit, you will be able to facilitate students to:

- Understand the basics of electrical diagnostic.
- Use the diagnostic repair tools.

UNIT 2.2.1: Electrical Diagnostics Basics

Explain

1. In the illustration given below, what must be done to correct the problem?

- Clean the battery connector
- Replace the battery
- No problem to repair
- Test the charging system

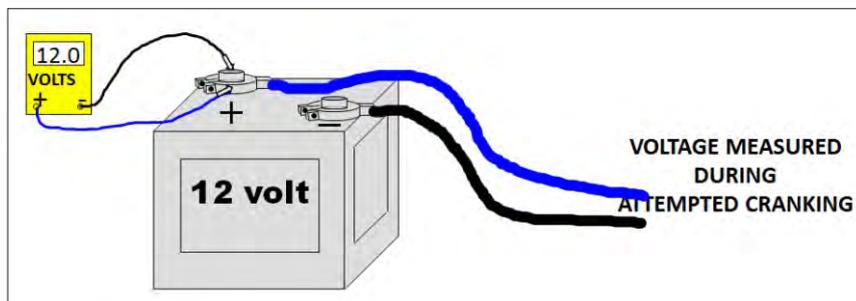

Fig. 2.2.1 (a) Electrical Diagnostics

The voltmeter tests the connection between the battery and the cable. Since there is a 12 volt drop, no voltage is available to the machine. There should only be a 0.2 Voltage drop.

2. The positive battery on a backhoe has been replaced. When you attempted to start the backhoe the positive cable melted. What is wrong?

- Ground cable gauge size too large
- The starter motor had too much resistance
- Ground cable not making a good connection to ground
- The replacement positive cable gauge size is too small

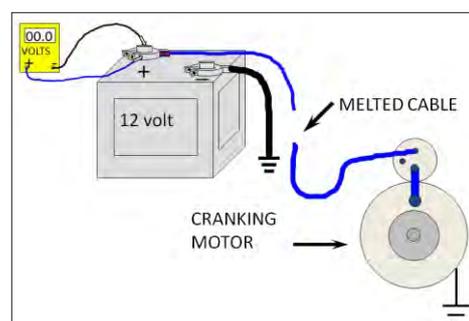

Fig. 2.2.1(b) Electrical Diagnostics

The cable could not handle the amperage because it was too small so it melted.

Notes for Facilitation

- Form two teams and make them discuss the basics of electrical diagnostics.

UNIT 2.2.2: Diagnostic Repair Tools

Explain

The inspections done regularly for electric circuits:

- Damaged connectors
- Loose connections
- Chafing on wiring harnesses
- Corrosion
- Missing insulation
- Incorrect routing of harness

Do not use the machine if one or more of these faults are found. You must make sure that the electrical circuit is repaired immediately.

- Multimeter measures:
 - Voltage (AC, DC – Voltage)
 - Current (AC, DC – Ampere)
 - Resistance (Ohms, Kilo ohms)
 - Continuity
 - Diode
 - To measure current – connected in series
 - To measure voltage – connected in parallel
 - To measure resistance - the component must be removed from the power source.

Fig. 2.2.2 (a) Multimeter

Ask

- What is the use of multimeter?

Notes for Facilitation

- Explain the purpose of multimeter.
- Refer to page no. 46 in the participant handbook and explain the diagnostic repair tools.

UNIT 2.2.3: Battery Warning Indicator

Explain

	Green colour indicates that battery is OK
	Blue colour indicates that battery is OK
	White colour indicates that battery needs charging
	In the event of the indicator showing red, open service plugs with the help of a coin and top up with pure distilled water or call any authorised battery dealer. Do not use screw driver for opening the plugs.

Fig. 2.2.3 (a) Description of Battery Warning Colour

Checking the electrolyte level:

- Get access to the battery. See access panels.
- Disconnect and remove the battery. See the battery disconnection/connection.
- Remove service plug A. Look at the level in each cell. The electrolyte should be 6 mm (1/4 in) above the plates. Top up if necessary with distilled water or de-ionized water.
- Refit the battery.
- Close and lock the access panels.

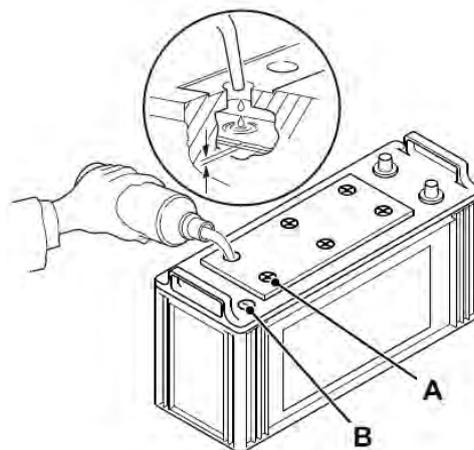

Fig. 2.2.3 (b) Top up with Distilled water

UNIT 3.2: Soldering

Unit Objective

At the end of this unit, you will be able to facilitate students to:

- Carryout soldering task.

UNIT 3.2.1: Soldering

Say

- Soldering is a process in which two or more items (usually metal) are joined together by melting and putting a filler metal (solder) into the joint, this filler metal has a lower melting point than the adjoining metal.
- Soldering differs from welding, in that soldering does not involve melting the work pieces. In brazing, the filler metal melts at a higher temperature, but the work piece metal does not melt.
- In the past, nearly all solders contained lead, but environmental and health concerns have increasingly dictated use of lead-free alloys for electronics and plumbing purposes.

Explain

Good Soldering Practices:

- Parts must be clean, free from dirt and grease.
- "Tin" the iron tip with a small amount of solder.
- Clean the tip of the hot soldering iron on a damp sponge.
- Heat all parts of the joint with the iron for under a second.
- Continue heating, then apply sufficient solder to form an adequate joint.
- Remove and return the iron safely to its stand.
- Do not move parts until the solder has cooled.

- Understand the various do's and don'ts while working with a machine.

UNIT 4.1.1: Safety Precautions to be Taken

Say

- The primary factor to learn and follow safety precautions by a mechanic is to repair safely and avoid accidents in the workshop.

Explain

It is important for every employer and employee involved in machine repairing and maintenance to safeguard themselves, learn safety procedures and encourage safe practices within their workplace. This prevents accidents taking place due to carelessness and ignorance.

A mechanic too has a duty to:

- Be responsible and careful to avoid putting himself or other's life into risk.
- Co-operate with employer or any other person to perform their legal duties in health and safety.
- Do not interfere with or misuse any safety device or equipment.
- Not intentionally or recklessly interfere with anything provided in the interest of health, safety and welfare.
- Follow mechanic's procedures and the manufacturer's instructions, which describes the safe repairing of the machine, they are responsible for.
- Inform the supervisor, without unreasonable delay, of any work situation that they are aware of which presents a risk to the health and safety to them or others.
- Immediately report any defects in plant and equipment which might endanger safety.

Ask

- What are the safety precautions to be taken by a mechanic at work?
- What is the purpose of following safety precautions in the workshop?

Do

- Give a demo of safety precautions to be taken and explain the above topic with a machine.
- Make participants to explain the safety precautions needed to be considered while repairing.

UNIT 4.1.2: Do's and Don'ts during Repairing

Say

- Once the safety precautions are understood, there are certain do's and don'ts associated with machine repairing which will inculcate good work culture in a mechanic.

Explain

The do's and don'ts to be followed:

Do's

- Comply fully with instructions given by the supervisor.
- Follow the manufacturer's instructions (repair manuals) for the specific machine you are assisting on.
- Take safety precautions when assisting on the machine both during and after work.

Don'ts

- Repair the machine unless you have received appropriate training and are authorised to do so .

- Identify different types of PPE's.
- Understand the proper use of PPE's.

UNIT 4.2.1: Personal Protective Equipment

Say

- Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) is very useful to safeguard from the common injuries or accidents and to repair the machine safely.

Explain

PPE is an equipment worn to minimise exposure to a variety of hazards.

List of PPE equipment:

- Safety gloves
- Safety footwear
- Eye protection
- Protective hearing devices (earplugs, muffs) hard
- Safety helmets
- Respiratory protecting equipment

- Identify the common hazards in the workshop.
- Understand the necessary do's and don'ts that may help to avoid accidents.

UNIT 4.3.1: Accident Prevention & Control Do's & Don'ts

Say

- Prevention is better than cure. Accidents are prone to happen, but when proper safety measures along with specific do's and don'ts are followed, common accidents can be prevented.

Explain

The basic do's and don'ts to prevent accidents are as follows:

Do's

- Wear all protective clothing and personal safety equipment issued to you or required by your working conditions.
- Understand and follow safety procedures when working on site or while using plant and work equipment.
- Ensure you are fully aware of the job requirements and how they need to be carried out, know where to get help. Know the first aid and emergency procedures.
- Study the manufacturer's repair manual for using your plant and equipment. If the manual is not provided, ask your supervisor or the suppliers of the plant/equipment to supply one.
- Report faulty/unsafe plant or equipment and any dangerous incidents.
- Safe use of plant equipments to avoid any effect on its stability.
- Watch out the consequences of your actions on others in the work places.
- Maintain a record of personal injuries in an accident record book or any equivalent record book. Make sure even a slight injury must be recorded.
- Attend all training courses being organized by your employer. It is possible to learn new technique and safety practices at any age!

Don'ts

- Use plant or work equipment that you have not been trained to use.
- Overload any plant or work equipment either by lifting or loading.
- Operate plant and work equipment carelessly or at unsafe speeds.
- Throw or drop objects from plant or work equipment.
- Attempt to carry out work on moving parts of plant or work equipment with the safety guards removed.

At the end of this unit, you will be able to facilitate students to:

- Identify different types of waste and their segregation.
- Understand the procedure for correct disposal of waste.

UNIT 4.4.1: Waste Management

Say

- Waste management is an approach that aims to reduce waste, thereafter recycle waste and dispose of the balance especially hazardous material, economically keeping in view environmental regulations.

Explain

Waste segregation is a procedure which allows an individual to store different types of wastes with suitable classifications and helps in safe disposal of each type of waste separately.

A mechanic needs to remember some basic waste management rules:

- Use only authorised waste disposal sites.
- Never store lubricants in open or unlabelled containers.
- Never pour used engine oil into sewers, drains or on the ground.
- Dispose the waste in appropriate bin.

Fig. 4.4.1 (a) Waste management

Ask

- What is waste management?
- What are the basic rules for waste management?

Notes for Facilitation

- Refer to page no.64 in the participant handbook and explain the waste management.
- Explain the advantages of waste management.

UNIT 4.5: Basic Fire-fighting Equipment and Use

Unit Objective

At the end of this unit, you will be able to facilitate students to:

- Identify different types of fire-fighting equipment.
- Understand the procedures for correct uses of these equipment.

UNIT 4.5.1: Fire Extinguisher

Say

- Firefighting is an act of attempting to prevent the spread of and extinguish significant unwanted fires in the workshop. A fire extinguisher is an active fire protection device used to extinguish or control small fires, often in emergency situations.

Explain

To operate an extinguisher:

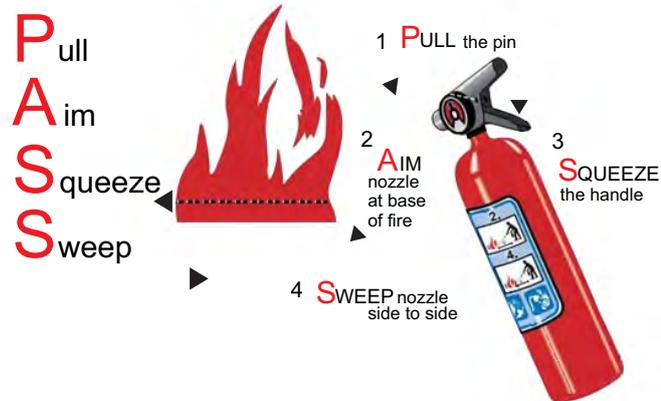

Fig. 4.5.1 (a) Fire Extinguisher

Notes for Facilitation

- Give the demo on how to operate the fire extinguisher.
- Show repair videos/safety videos (fire extinguisher).

Do

- Make participants operate the fire extinguisher.
- Make them discuss the situations where the fire extinguisher must be used.

UNIT 4.5.2: Sand Bucket

Say

- A sand bucket is a bucket filled with sand which is used to prevent or extinguish small fires. These are also called as fire buckets.

Explain

- Typically, sand/fire buckets are painted bright red and have the word fire stencilled on them. Often they have a convex, protruding bottom.
- The sand from a fire bucket can also be used to absorb spills of flammable liquids and render them less dangerous, by reducing the risk of ignition and explosion.
- Fire buckets are a low-technology method of fighting small fires. Although largely superseded by more modern forms of firefighting equipment, they retain some distinct advantages and remain the preferred method for fighting small fires in certain situations. The main advantages of fire buckets are that they are cheap, reliable, easy to use and can be quickly refilled and reinstated.
- Normally, they are hung on dedicated fire bucket stands and placed in prominent positions in rooms or corridors in the workshop.

Fig. 4.5.2 (a) Sand Bucket

Ask

- What are the advantages of sand buckets over the fire extinguishers?
- What are types of fire where the sand buckets would be used?

Notes for Facilitation

UNIT 4.6: Common Injuries and Appropriate First Aid

Unit Objective

At the end of this unit, you will be able to facilitate students to:

- Identify the various items of the first aid kit.
- Administer first aid for common injuries.

UNIT 4.6.1: Basic First Aid Kit

Say

- A first aid kit is a collection of supplies and equipment that is used to give medical treatment to a sick or an injured person until full medical treatment is available. There is a wide variation in the contents of first aid kits based on the knowledge and experience of those putting it together.

Explain

A mechanic must have basic knowledge of emergency medicines that can be used as primary medical service for cuts, wounds, fever, etc.

Fig. 4.6.1 (a) Components of First Aid Kit

Basic items of first aid kit are listed below:

- Scissors
- Glove
- Tweezers

- Explain the functions of each item in the first aid kit.
- Give the demo on how to treat a minor injury during work.
- Show repair videos/safety videos (using first aid kit) during the injury.

UNIT 4.6.2: Administer Aid

Say

- Employees and the employers need to assess the first aid requirements of their work. It is necessary to be sure there are enough trained first aiders and facilities to help casualties of illness or injury immediately, and that an ambulance or other professional help can be summoned without delay.

Explain

EMERGENCY FIRST AID

ABC'S OF IMMEDIATE FIRST AID ACTION

A Open the Airway B Check for Breathing C Check for Circulation

MOUTH TO MOUTH RESUSCITATION ■

1 Lay victim on back and clear airway.

3 Place victim's mouth with thumb and forefinger. Place your mouth tightly over victim's mouth and give 2 quick breaths. CONTINUE WITH RESPIRATIONS PER MINUTE.

2 Tilt victim's head back by tilting back of neck and pressing on forehead.

4 Stop blowing when victim's chest rises and listen for exhaled air. Repeat breathing procedure.

CHOKING ■

If choking victim can cough, speak or breathe, do not interfere. Call a paramedic.

IF VICTIM CANNOT BREATHE

1 Stand behind victim and put arms around victim's waist. Make a fist, placing thumb side against victim's abdomen between navel and rib cage.

2 Grasp fist with other hand and give 5-10 forceful upward thrusts. Repeat until object is dislodged.

SEVERE BLEEDING ■

1 Please place compress over wound and apply direct pressure. Elevate limb if bleeding severely.

2 When bleeding stops, tie pressure bandage. Do not cut off circulation by tying bandage too tightly.

FRACTURE ■ ■ ■ BURNS ■

1 Do not move victim

2 Splint injured area.

3 Treat for shock, being careful when handling injured area.

1 Hold burn under cold running water or apply a cold compress.

2 Cover burn with clean bandage.

3 DO NOT treat burns with grease or butter.

EYE INJURY ■

CHEMICAL BURNS OF THE EYE

1 Flush eye with eye and skin neutralizer or clear water for 15 minutes.

OBJECT IN EYE (PARTICLE):

1 Do not rub eyes.

2 Pull eyelid over eye and hold to cause tearing. Tears will normally cause object to wash free.

3 If above procedure is unsuccessful, hold eyelid up and have victim look downward.

4 Place a cotton tip applicator horizontally across the eyelid and hold back over it.

5 Carefully remove object with Eye Magnet Loop or damp, clean cloth.

ELECTRIC SHOCK ■

1 Remove victim from source of shock using stick or other non-conductive object.

2 Begin mouth to mouth resuscitation if breathing has stopped.

3 Call for medical assistance promptly.

SHOCK DUE TO INJURY ■

1 Clear the airway.

2 If face is pale, elevate the feet.

3 If face is red, elevate the head and shoulders.

4 Keep the victim warm.

Explain

Following photograph depicts grooming in its entirety.

Fig. 5.1.2 (a) Personal Grooming

Note: Always wear personal protective equipment (PPE) when handling hot components or when using a brush to clean components.

Tips

- Employers are generally permitted to have and enforce grooming and hygiene standards in the workplace that apply to all employees or employees with certain jobs, even if they conflict with an employee's religious beliefs.
- Inconsistent application of a grooming policy could lead to claims of discrimination.
- Every employee is expected to practice daily hygiene and good grooming habits as per guidelines set by the employer.

UNIT 5.2: Communication Skills

Unit Objective

At the end of this unit, you will be able to facilitate students to:

- Identify and understand the need for an effective communication in workshop.

UNIT 5.2.1: Need of Effective Communication in workshop

Say

- Communication is an act of conveying intended meanings from one entity or group to another through mutually understood writing, verbal and hand signals/gesture. Failing to communicate effectively in the workshop leads to accidents and confusion among employees.

Explain

- Bad communications can cause accidents. Keep people around you informed of what you will be doing. If you are working with other people, make sure hand signals/gesture used should be understood by everybody. Workshop can be noisy, do not rely on spoken commands.
- A mechanic needs to be alert of his surroundings. Any accident or serious machine malfunctioning is to be immediately reported to his immediate supervisor.

- Identify and demonstrate the method to resolve complaints.

UNIT 5.4.1: Do's and Don'ts for Good Customer Experience

Say

- A good customer experience means that the individual's experience during all points of contact matches the individual's expectations. Excellent customer service and high customer satisfaction must start with understanding customer's expectations. You need to know who your customers are and what they want.

Explain

The do's and don'ts for customer service:

Do's

- Meet and greet customers
- Be an attentive listener
- Try to find solutions at your end rather than escalating it to supervisor
- Be polite

Don'ts

- Leave problems unresolved or unanswered because you are offended by customer's tone or for any other reason
- Delay your response time to a customer complaint
- Lie about your product or services
- Do anything unethical just to please the customer

Unit 6.2 – Digital Literacy: A Recap

Unit 6.3 – Money Matters

Unit 6.4 – Preparing for Employment & Self Employment

Unit 6.5 – Understanding Entrepreneurship

Unit 6.6 – Preparing to be an Entrepreneur

Introduction: Employability and Entrepreneurship Skills

This Facilitator's guide includes various activities which will help you as a facilitator to make the sessions participative and interactive.

Ice breaker

- You can begin the module with the following ice breaker:

Five of Anything Ice Breaker Steps:

- Divide the participants into groups of four or five by having them number off. (You do this because people generally begin a meeting by sitting with the people they already know best.)
- Tell the newly formed groups that their assignment is to share their five favourite movies of all time, their five favourite novels or their five least liked films. The topic can be five of anything - most liked or disliked.
- This ice breaker helps the group explore shared interests more broadly and sparks lots of discussion about why each person likes or dislikes their selected five.
- Tell the groups that one person must take notes and be ready to share the highlights of their group discussion with the class upon completion of the assignment.

Expectation Mapping

- During the first session and after ice breaker session, ask the participants to answer the following question: "What do I expect to learn from this training?"
- Have one of the participants write their contributions on a flip chart sheet.
- Write down your own list of covered material in the training on another flip chart sheet.
- Compare the two sheets, commenting on what will and what will not be covered during the training.
- Set some ground rules for the training sessions. Ask the participants to put these rules on a flipchart and display it in the class.
- You may get back to those sheets once again at the end of the last session of the training.
- Benefits of doing this activity:
 - Participants feel better as their opinions are heard.
 - Participants get to know what they should expect from the training.
 - The facilitator gets to know which points to emphasize, which to leave out, and which to add during the training.
- Expectations from the participants:
 - Must sign the attendance sheet when they arrive for class.
 - Conduct themselves in a positive manner
 - Be punctual, attentive, and participative
- Explain the contents that are going to get covered one by one and connect it with the expectation mapping done earlier.
- By the end of this exercise, the participants should have a clear understanding of what to expect from the session and what are the areas that will not get covered.

Defining Objectives

- Defining the objectives in the beginning of the units sets the mood for the unit.
- To begin with the end in mind sets the expectations of the participants as what could be the important takeaways from the session.
- It is also a way of making participants take responsibility of their own learning process.
- For the facilitator, the objectives decide a designed path to progress on so that the learning stays aligned and on track.

5. Read the objectives slowly, one by one, and ask the participants to explain what they think it means.
6. At the end of the session, you could again revisit the objectives to find out from the participants about how many objectives have been achieved.

In order to effectively facilitate this workshop:

1. You must have thorough knowledge of the material in the Participant Handbook, and be prepared to answer questions about it.
2. You may also wish to read other material to enhance your knowledge of the subject.
3. There may be issues raised with which you are not able to deal, either because of lack of time or knowledge. You can either state that you will obtain answers and get back to the participants with the information. In case the query can be turned to an assignment to the class, do so. You can work with the the participants on the assignment.
4. You must have a very clear understanding of what the participants want to accomplish by the end of the workshop and the means to guide the participants.
5. As the facilitator, it is your responsibility to make sure that all logistical arrangements are made for the workshop. This may involve doing it yourself or confirming that someone else has made all necessary arrangements associated with the workshop. Assume nothing and check everything before the workshop begins.
6. To break the monotony and boredom during sessions, introduce mini breaks in the form of stretching exercises, jokes, some group songs or games.
7. Invite discussion from the participants.
8. Probe the participants further and lead them to come to affirmative conclusions.
9. Let the participants answer. No answer is incorrect.
10. Ask one participant to write all the points on the whiteboard.
11. Build the sessions from the answers provided by the class.
12. Prepare for the sessions in advance so that the resources like flipcharts, handouts, blank sheets of paper, marker pens, etc. can be kept ready.
13. Ensure that resources like board, markers, duster etc. is available before your session starts.

General instructions for role playing:

1. You are not being asked to be an actor or to entertain. The purpose of the role play is to provide a situation in which you can practice certain skills.
2. When you read the brief, try to imagine yourself in the situation described and behave in a way you feel to be natural – but be conscious of the fact that your role may require a different approach from that which you might normally use.
3. You (and others) may benefit from the change in approach and behaviour. Therefore, try to use the approach you feel to be most appropriate for the circumstances described in your brief.
4. The brief is just the starting point. It simply sets the scene and the tone of session or activity. Try not to keep referring to the brief as this will affect the spontaneity of the meeting. Allow the role play to develop as you think it might in real life and change your reactions in line with the behaviour and responses of others involved.
5. If you find that you have too little information to answer questions or to describe what has happened in the situation, do feel free to add your own thoughts and ideas. Try to keep these within the framework of the role you are taking and try to make your improvisations as realistic as possible.

Right behind him there was another person who couldn't understand what this man was doing. He caught up with him and asked, "What are you doing? There are hundreds of starfish. How many can you help? What difference does it make?" This man did not reply, took two more steps, picked up another one, threw it into the water, and said, "It makes a difference to this one." Inspiration behind the idea: Most people today prefer to use a water filter/purifier at their home.

Both the children have given idea to have filter/purifier at the source of water so that everyone has access to clean water without having to make an investment in purchasing a filter/purifier.

Soring's idea is to have a centralised purification system at the point of distribution like water tank while Subash's idea is to have such purifiers attached to public taps.

UNIT 6.1.6: Time Management

Unit Objectives

At the end of this unit, participants will be able to:

- Discuss the benefits of time management
- List the traits of effective time managers
- Describe effective time management techniques

Resources to be Used

- Participant Handbook

Ask

Does this sound like you?

- I can never get enough time to finish what I am doing in a day.
- I have so many things to do that I get confused.
- I want to go for a walk and exercise, but I just do not have the time.
- I had so much to do, so I could not deliver that order on time.
- I would love to start my dream business; but, I just do not have the time.

Example

- Let's look at these two examples:

Example 1:

Ankita works from home as a freelance writer. She says she can easily put in 8 hours of dedicated work in a day. Because she works from home, she saves money on travel and has a comfortable work routine. But there is a challenge and it is distraction. As she works from home, she can easily just get up and sit down on the sofa to watch TV, wasting valuable time. She may have chores to do, errands to run and bills to pay. She ends up working only two to three hours a day and the result is, her work gets piled up. She is unable to take on more work due to this. Even though her quality of work is appreciated her clients are not very happy about the delay in submission.

Example 2:

Javed has started a successful online selling company from home and makes a good living from his sales. He has set up a small office space in his living room. As both his parents are working full-time, he also has the role of taking care of his two younger siblings. He almost spends half of his day with the younger kids. He does not mind it but it means taking time away from the work. He is still able to manage his online business with these commitments. He wants to spend some more dedicated hours so as to increase his profits. He also wants to look into new business avenues. What should he be doing.

Ask

- Does this happen with you too?
- Do you find it difficult to prioritize your work?
- Are you able to manage your time effectively?

Activity

- Conduct a group discussion based on the above examples.
- Direct the discussion on how to prioritize work and manage time effectively.

Say

- Time management is not only about how hard you work but also about how smart you work.
- Discuss “What is Time Management” with the participants as given in the Participant Handbook.

Ask

- Why is it important to manage time? How does it help?
- What happens when you don't manage your time effectively?
- Do you find it difficult to prioritize your work?

Say

- Discuss the benefits of time management given in the Participant Handbook.
- Let's learn effective time management with the help of an activity.

Activity

Effective Time Management

- This activity has two parts:

PART 1 TO-DO LIST

- You have to make a to-do list.
- List all of the activities/ tasks that you have to do.
- Try to include everything that takes up your time, however unimportant it may be.
- If they are large tasks, break them into action steps, and write this down with the larger task.
- You can make one list for all your tasks or have separate to-do lists for personal and professional tasks.

PART 2 URGENT-IMPORTANT GRID

- You have to make a grid as shown on the board here. .
- This grid has four boxes. As you can see, each box has a different heading.
- At the heart of the urgent-important grid, are these two questions:
 - Is this task important?
 - Is this task urgent?
- Now, you have to think about each activity that you have written in your to-do list and put it into one of the four categories.
- What do these categories depict?
- Category 1: Urgent/Important
 - This category is for the highest priority tasks. They need to get done now.

- Category 2: Not Urgent/Important
 - This is where you want to spend most of your time.
 - This category allows you to work on something important and have the time to do it properly.
 - This will help you produce high quality work in an efficient manner.
 - The tasks in this category are probably the most neglected ones, but also the most crucial ones for success.
 - The tasks in this category can include strategic thinking, deciding on goals or general direction and planning – all vital parts of running a successful business.
- Category 3: Urgent/Not Important
 - This is where you are busy but not productive. These tasks are often mistaken to be important, when they're most often busywork.
 - Urgent but not important tasks are things that prevent you from achieving your goals.
 - However, some may be activities that other people want you to do.
- Category 4: Not Important and Not Urgent
 - This category doesn't really include tasks, but rather habits that provide comfort, and a refuge from being disciplined and rigorous with your time management.
 - Some may be activities that other people want you to do.
 - These might include unplanned leisure activities as well.

NOT URGENT/ NOT IMPORTANT

Do

- Put down the formats for the to-do list and the urgent/ important grid on the board.
- Instruct the participants to prepare their to-do list first.
- Give the participants 10 minutes to prepare the list.
- Once done, instruct them to divide the tasks in to-do list into the four categories.
- Explain the four categories to the participants giving examples specific to their context.
- As you explain the categories fill the grid with the type of tasks.
- Give the participants 40 minutes to fill the grid.
- Then explain how to balance the tasks between the four categories.
- Keep a check on time. Tell the group to wind up quickly if they go beyond the given time limit.

Say Activity De-brief:*How can we balance tasks between the four categories?*How to manage time through this grid?

- Category 1: Urgent/Important
 - ♦ Try to keep as few tasks as possible here, with the aim to eliminate.
 - ♦ If you spend too much of your time in this category, you are working solely as a trouble shooter, and never finding time to work on longer-term plans.
- Category 2: Not Urgent/Important
 - Plan these tasks carefully and efficiently as they are most crucial ones for success.
 - If necessary, also plan where you will do these tasks, so that you're free from interruptions.
 - Include strategic thinking, deciding on goals or general direction and planning in your planning process.
- Category 3: Urgent/Not Important
 - ♦ Ask yourself whether you can reschedule or delegate them.
 - ♦ A common source of such activities is other people. Sometimes it's appropriate to say "no" to people politely, or to encourage them to solve the problem themselves.
- Category 4: Not Important and Not Urgent
 - ♦ You also want to minimize the tasks that you have in this category.
 - ♦ These activities are just a distraction – avoid them if possible.
 - ♦ You can simply ignore or cancel many of them.
 - ♦ Politely say "no" to work assigned by others, if you can, and explain why you cannot do it.
 - ♦ Schedule your leisure activities carefully so that they don't have an impact on other important tasks.
- Discuss the traits of effective time managers and effective time management techniques as given in the Participant Handbook.

Summarize

- Discuss the traits of effective time managers and effective time management techniques as given in the Participant Handbook.

Notes for Facilitation

- Here is a short story. You can conclude the session narrating the story. To make it more interesting you can perform the demonstration described and discuss the short story.
 - ♦ One day an expert in time management was speaking to a group of students. As he stood in front of the group, he pulled out a large wide-mouthed glass jar and set it on the table in front of him. Then he took out a bag of about a dozen rocks and placed them, one at a time, into the jar. When the jar was filled to the top and no more rocks would fit inside, he asked, "Is this jar full?" Everyone in the class said, "Yes." Then he said, "Really?"
 - ♦ He reached under the table and pulled out a bucket of gravel (small stones). He dumped some gravel in and shook the jar causing pieces of gravel to work themselves down into the space between the rocks. Then he asked the group once more, "Is the jar full?" By this time, the class began to understand. "Probably not," one of them answered. "Good!" he replied.
 - ♦ He reached under the table and brought out a bucket of sand. He started dumping the sand in the jar and it went into all of the spaces left between the rocks and the gravel. Once more he asked the question, "Is this jar full?" "No!" the class shouted. Once again he said, "Good." Then he grabbed a jug of water and began to pour it in until the jar was filled to the brim. Then he looked at the class and asked, "What is the point of this illustration?" "One student raised his hand and said, "No matter how full your schedule is, if you try really hard you can always fit some more things in it!" "No," the speaker replied, "that's not the point. The truth this illustration teaches us is: If you don't put the big rocks in first, you'll never get them in at all." What are the 'big rocks' in your life? Your children; your loved ones; your education; your dreams; a worthy cause; teaching or mentoring others; doing things that you love; time for yourself; your health; your mate (or significant other). Remember to put these BIG ROCKS in first or you'll never get them in at all. If you sweat about the little stuff (the gravel, sand, and water) then you'll fill your life with little things you worry about that don't really matter, and you'll never have the time you need to spend on the big, important stuff (the big rocks).
- End the story with these lines...

So, tonight, or in the morning tomorrow, when you are reflecting on this short story, ask yourself this question: What are the 'big rocks' in my life? Then, put those in your jar first

At the end of this unit, participants will be able to:

- Discuss the causes of stress
- Discuss the symptoms of stress
- Discuss tips for stress management

Resources to be Used

- Participant Handbook

- You are waiting in the reception for an interview or a very important meeting, suddenly your legs are shaky, your hands are cold, you are feeling nervous. Have you ever been in this kind of situation?
- Have you had days when you had trouble sleeping?
- Have you ever been so worried about something that you ended up with a terrible headache?

Say

- You've probably heard people say, "I'm really stressed out" or "This is making me totally stressed."

Ask

- What do you understand by stress?
- What gives you stress?
- How do you feel when you are stressed or what are the symptoms of stress?
- How can stress harm you?
- Why is it important for entrepreneurs to manage stress?

Say

- When we feel overloaded or unsure of our ability to deal with certain challenges, we feel stressed.
- Discuss about stress, causes of stress, and symptoms of stress as discussed in the Participant Handbook.
- Let's understand the causes of stress and how to deal with them with the help of some case scenarios.
- You will be given some cases.
- You have to analyse the case scenario and then find an appropriate solution to the problem.
- This will be a group activity.

Do

- Divide the class into four groups of 5- 6 participants (depending on the batch size).
- Assign one case scenario to each group.
- Instruct them to read the case carefully.
- The group is expected to analyse and discuss the case amongst them and find a solution to the given problem.

- Explain their discussion should result in getting answers for the following questions:

Team Activity

Case Study Analysis

Scenario 1

Akash's alarm doesn't go off and he gets late getting out of the house. He hits traffic and ends up 15 minutes late to work, which his boss notices. He gets to his desk and finds he has to complete 2 reports in next one hour. Just when he is about to begin work, a message pops up "Telecon with the client begins in 10 minutes. Please be in the conference room in 5 minutes."

His is not prepared for the call. He is stressed. He does not want to speak to his boss about this. He is stressed, feeling uncomfortable and sick. Not in a position to attend the call or finish the reports on time.

Scenario 2

While paying his overdue bills, Rahul realised that it's the middle of the month and he has only Rs 500 left in his account. He has already asked all of his friends, and family for loans, which he hasn't paid back yet. He is still contemplating over the issue when his phone rings. His sister's birthday is due next week and she has seen a beautiful dress which she wants to buy but cannot tell the parents as it is a bit expensive. She wishes if Rahul could buy the dress for her. Rahul has promised to buy her the dress for her birthday.

Rahul is stressed, does not understand what to do. He is unable to concentrate on his work and unable to complete the tasks assigned. His team leader has already warned him of the delay.

Scenario 3

Sheela calls the cable company as she has unknown charges on her bill. She has to go through the automated voice mail menu three times and still can't get through to a customer care executive. After 15 minutes of repeated efforts, her call is answered. She explains the entire issue to the customer care executive but before the person could suggest a way out, the call drops.

Now Sheela has to call back and repeat the whole process all over again with a new customer care executive. She is very angry and calls again but cannot connect this time.

She has to leave to office so she decides to call from office and check. When she connects this time she is angry and argues with the executive on the call. All her co-workers around are looking at her as her volume has suddenly increased. She bangs the phone and ends the call.

Her co-worker Neelam enquires what has happened to her. She ignores her and just walks off. She has become irritable and her behaviour and tone with other co-workers is not acceptable.

Scenario 4

Arpit is a young entrepreneur who started doing business through Facebook few weeks back. He had always been into a job. Although Arpit has very few financial liabilities, it wasn't an easy decision to leave a comfortable job at once and look for newer pastures. Arpit's boss warned him of the consequences and the challenges of starting a business when nobody ever in his family had been in business.

He has not been able to get a good deal till now. This is an important life shift for him which comes with unknown variables. Arpit is nervous and is wondering if he has what it takes to fulfill the requirement of his new role, or the new experiences he's likely to face.

AskDe-brief questions:

- What was/ were the cause(s) of stress?
- Was the stress avoidable or manageable under the given circumstances?
- If yes, how do you think that the stress could be avoided (managed)?
- If no, then why not?

Say

- Now, let's discuss the problem and solution with the larger group.
- The group will first briefly describe the case to the class.
- Then discuss the issue identified and the proposed solution.
- Post presentation, the other groups may ask questions to the group that has presented.

Do

- Congratulate each group for sharing their points.
- Ask the audience to applaud for them.
- Ask de-brief questions to cull out the information from each group.
- Keep a check on time. Tell participants to wind up the discussion quickly if they go beyond the given time limit.

Say

- While it is common and normal to feel some tension. This feeling nervous and tensed can interfere with your thinking process and can have a negative impact on your performance.
- Stress can deplete the most vibrant of souls. It can have a negative effect on every aspect of a person's life including their health, emotional well-being, relationships, and career. However, one needs to understand the causes and types of stress before looking for ways to manage it.

De-brief:Scenario 1

The cause of stress was lack of time management and the habit of procrastinating. If Akash would have managed his time well, planned alternate ways to get up on time, finished prior tasks on time and planned for client meetings in advance then he wouldn't have faced stress.

Scenario 2

The cause of stress was lack of financial planning. Rahul should have planned his financial resources well in advance and saved some money for the rainy day. Also, differentiating between needs and wants and keeping a check on non-essential expenditure would have saved Rahul from this situation.

Scenario 3

Sometimes, stress is caused due to external factors instead of internal ones. In this case, the stress was unavoidable because we have no control over this customer care system. Every time, you will get in touch with a new executive and will have to explain all over again. This might cause stress but despite being frustrated and angry there is little that we can do about it. All Sheela could do was to find ways to calm herself down through some breathing exercises and meditation, reading some good book or listening to music and then start afresh.

Scenario 4

A positive, major life change can be a source of good stress. Regardless of how good the change is, it can be stressful. Stress caused by a positive and major life change can be beneficial because it causes a person to step out of their comfort zone and learn new skills. Here, Arpit may become a successful entrepreneur or learn new ways to do things differently.

Now let us see this scenario, can I have a volunteer to read out this case to the class.

Do

- Ask one of the participant who can volunteer and read out this scenario to the class.

Scenario 5

Rakesh lives in Kathmandu with his wife and two beautiful daughters Sarah and Sanya. Nepal was hit by a massive earthquake and Rakesh's building collapsed during the earthquake. During evacuation, Rakesh realised that though his wife and Sarah were fine and suffered only minor bruises, Sanya was nowhere in the scene. Panic stricken, he started calling her name and searching her frantically. A little later, he heard a meek voice from beneath the debris. He quickly removed the rubble to find a huge bed. Rakesh was pretty sure that Sanya was trapped underneath. Though he was badly bruised, he gathered all his courage and with all his might, he lifted the several-ton bed to save Sanya's life. Everyone was relieved to see Sanya alive and also extremely surprised to see this father's ability to access superhuman strength.

- Ask the audience to applaud for the participant after the scenario is read completely.
- Discuss the scenario, ask de-brief questions:
 - ♦ What kind of stress was Rakesh undergoing in this case?
 - ♦ Was the stress avoidable or manageable under the given circumstances?
 - ♦ What was the result of the stress?

Say De-brief:

- Not all stress is harmful; good stress is actually energizing. This was a case of lifesaving stress, or hero stress, which is an important example of good stress. You may have heard stories in which a person performs an impossible feat of physical strength in order to save their life or the life of someone they love. This type of stress causing a surge of adrenaline is good for us.

Summarize

- Close the discussion by summarizing the tips to manage stress as given in the Participant Handbook.
- Ask the participants what they have learnt from this exercise/ activity.
- Ask if they have any questions related to what they have talked about so far.

Notes for Facilitation

- Keep printed copies of the activities/ scenarios ready for the session.
- Put down the de-brief questions on a flip chart so that it can be displayed in the class during the activity.
- Encourage participation and make the discussions interactive.

- Can you name at least five shopping websites?
- What is the product that you most frequently buy online?
- Why do you do shopping online instead of going to the market?

Say

- Give a brief introduction of “What is E-commerce”. Refer to the Participant Handbook.
- E-commerce emerged in the early 1990s, and its use has increased at a rapid rate. Today, many companies sell their products online. Everything from food, clothes, entertainment, furniture and many other items can be purchased online.

- Discuss benefits of E-commerce from the Participant Handbook.

Explain

- The majority of the population that uses E-commerce activities lives in tier-1 and tier-2 cities. To encourage the use of digital money in tier-3 and 4 areas, PM Mr. Modi launched the “Digital India Campaign”.
- Discuss “Digital India Campaign” from the Participant Handbook.
- By Digital India project the government will deliver services via mobile connectivity and in doing so, is expected to bring the internet and broadband to remote corners of the country. This connectivity will in turn enhance e-commerce activities also. Furthermore, the Indian Government is also modernizing India Post and aims to develop it as a distribution channel for e-commerce related services.

Say

- Now let us discuss how to sell a product using E-commerce.
- Every product has to be sold on a platform on the internet. Think of it as a shop that you have to sell your product. Now this shop can be your own or shared or rented. If the shop is your own or rented there will be only your products in that shop. If the shop is shared, there will be products of multiple sellers in that shop. A common example is a departmental store which has products from multiple brands in the shop.
- Similarly, in E-commerce the shop is the website where your products are displayed. If it is your own website it will exclusively showcase your products. In this case the cost that you will incur will be:
 - ♦ Developing the website
 - ♦ Hosting the website
 - ♦ Maintenance of the website
- If you rent a website it will also showcase your own products but the development, hosting and maintenance parts goes to the owner. This saves time and the cost to manage these activities.
- Smaller companies usually go for renting a website and the bigger ones develop their own website.
- The concept of shared platforms has become very popular in recent times. In this platform the sellers have to register and then they can sell their goods on a common platform. Among the most popular of these are Amazon, Myntra, Flipkart, etc.

Role Play

- Tell the participants to choose a product or service that they want to sell online.
- Tell them to write a brief note explaining how they will use existing e-commerce platforms, or create a new e-commerce platform to sell their product or service.

Ask

- How much money are you carrying in your wallet?
- Do you have a credit/debit card?
- How do you make payments while doing online shopping?

Say

- Demonetization has made carrying cash in the wallet very difficult. People either shop through cards or some other form of digital money.
- So what do you think is digital money?
- In this form the money is both paid and received digitally. There is no hard cash involved. It is an instant and convenient way to make payments.
- There are various types of digital payments. Let us discuss some of them in brief here.
- The first one is the most commonly used system i.e. the cards. Debit card, credit card, prepaid card, all fall under this category.
- Then is the e-wallet or the mobile wallet. This has become the most used form of digital money after demonetization. Examples are Paytm, state bank buddy, Freecharge, etc.
- Many other forms of digital money are also coming up in market like mobile apps, Aadhar card based payment, etc.

Do

- Demonstrate how to make and receive payments through digital models like Paytm and state bank buddy.

Ask

- Why do you think people have started using digital money instead of hard cash? Is demonetization the only reason?

Say

- Digital money gives a lot of advantages over the conventional hard cash. Some of them are:
 - ♦ Digital payments are easy and convenient. You do not need to take loads of cash with you, a mobile phone or a card will suffice.
 - ♦ With digital payment modes, you can pay from anywhere anytime.
 - ♦ Digital payments have less risk.

Summarize

- Ask the participants what they have learnt from this exercise/ activity.
- Ask if they have any questions related to what they have talked about so far.
- Close the discussion by summarizing the importance of e-commerce and digital money.

- Do you plan your savings?
- Where do you keep the money you save?
- How do you use the money that you have saved?

Example

- Let's look at these two examples:

Example 1:

Suhani works in a good company and earns Rs.30, 000 month. She always saves 5000 per month and keeps it aside as a personal saving. She keeps the money at home and has saved quite a lot. One day her mother has a medical emergency and has to be taken to the hospital. Her family is worried about the amount they have to spend for the treatment. It will cost them atleast 40,000.

Suhani says tells her family not to worry and that she has about 50,000, which she has saved over the months.

Example 2:

Jasmeet works in the same company and earns the same as Suhani. She is very fond of shopping and spends most of her money on buying new clothes. At the end of the month, she is always asking her father for money as her pay is finished.

Ask

- Who do you identify with –Suhani or Jasmeet ?
- How do you think Suhani manages to save money which Jasmeet is unable to do?

Ask

- What are the benefits of saving money?

Activity 2

Riddles:

Is there any law against a man marrying his widow's sister?

If you went to bed at eight o'clock at night and set the clock's alarm to ring at nine o'clock, how many hours of sleep would you get?

Do they have a 26th of January in England?

If you had only one match and entered a dark room that had a kerosene lamp, oil heater, and a wood stove, what would you light first?

The Delhi Daredevils and the Chennai Super Kings play five IPL matches. Each wins three matches. No match was a tie or dispute. How is this possible?

There was an airplane crash. Every single person died, but two people survived. How is this possible?

If an airplane crashes on the border of two countries, would unidentified survivors be buried in the country they were travelling to or the country they were travelling from?

A man builds an ordinary house with four sides except that each side has a southern exposure. A bear comes to the door and rings the doorbell. What is the colour of the bear?

Answers:

There's no law against a man marrying his widow's sister, but it would be the neatest trick in the book since to have a widow, the man would have to be dead.

You'd get one hour's sleep since alarm clocks do not know the difference between morning and night.

Oh, yes. They have a 26th of January in England. They also have a 27th, a 28th, and so on.

First of all, you would light the match.

Who said the Delhi Daredevils and the Chennai Super Kings were playing against each other in those games?

Every SINGLE person died, but those two were married.

You can't bury survivors under any law especially if they still have enough strength to object.

The bear that rang the doorbell would have to be a white bear. The only place you could build a house with four southern exposures is at the North Pole where every direction is in South.

Ask De-brief question:

- What were the barriers that came into your way of listening?
- How can you overcome barriers to listening?

Say

- There is a difference between hearing and listening.
- If you don't listen properly, the message may be misunderstood.
- Be open-minded while listening to someone.
- It is important to listen effectively and carefully without making assumptions.

Activity 3 Elevator Pitch:

You are in the lift of a hotel and you bumped into your former client who is a famous businessman. He has financed a lot of small business ventures and can finance your new start-up too. After exchanging pleasantries, he asks you what your new company does. You open your mouth, and then pause. Where do you even begin?

Then, as you try to organize your thoughts, his meeting is called, and he is on his way. If you would be better prepared, you're sure that he would have stayed long enough to schedule a meeting with you too.

If you were given another chance, what would you have said to this person?

Do

- Start off the task by providing a beginning sentence to get the story started, and then go around the classroom getting each one to add a new sentence to keep the story going.
- This task should be done spontaneously allowing only a little time to think (30 seconds).
- For example: There was once a student who was looking for a job after graduation.

Notes for Facilitation

- Tell the participants to follow these steps to create a great pitch, but bear in mind that you'll need to vary your approach depending on what your pitch is about.
 1. Identify Your Goal: Start by thinking about the objective of your pitch. For instance, do you want to tell the potential clients about your organization? Do you have a great new product idea that you want to pitch to an executive or do you want a simple and engaging speech to explain what you do for a living?
 2. Explain What You Do: Start your pitch by describing what your organization does. Focus on the problems that you solve and how you help people. Ask yourself this question as you start writing: what do you want your audience to remember most about you? Keep in mind that your pitch should excite you first. After all, if you don't get excited about what you're saying neither will your audience. People may not remember everything that you say, but they will likely remember your enthusiasm.
 3. Communicate Your USP: Your elevator pitch also needs to communicate your unique selling proposition or USP. Identify what makes you, your organization or your idea unique. You'll want to communicate your USP after you've talked about what you do.
 4. Engage with a Question: After you communicate your USP, you need to engage your audience. To do this, prepare open-ended questions (questions that can't be answered with a "yes" or "no" answer) to involve them in the conversation. Make sure that you're able to answer any questions that he or she may have.
 5. Put it all Together: When you've completed each section of your pitch, put it all together. Then, read it aloud and use a stopwatch to time how long it takes. It should be no longer than 20-30 seconds. Remember, the shorter it is, the better!

Example:

Here's how your pitch could come together:

"My company deals with cloth retail online business and we use various e-commerce platforms to sell our products. This means that you can do shopping with ease and spend time on other important tasks. Unlike other similar companies, we have a strong feedback mechanism to find out exactly what people need. This means that, on average, 95 percent of our clients are happy with our products. So, how can you help us in creating our own web portal?"

6. Practice: Like anything else, practice makes perfect. Remember, how you say it is just as important as what you say. If you don't practice, it's likely that you'll talk too fast, sound unnatural or forget important elements of your pitch. Set a goal to practice your pitch regularly. The more you practice, the more natural your pitch will become. Practice in front of a mirror or in front of colleagues until the pitch feels natural.

Summarize

- Close the discussion by summarizing how to speak effectively as discussed in the Participant Handbook.
